

Ukrainian Churches in the Time of War

Round table discussion

Friday, March 4

18:00-19:30 Kyiv time [17:00-18:30 CET]

The war in Ukraine is heavily affecting the entire population of the country, churches included. We gathered an ecumenical cohort of representatives from Orthodox, Catholic and Protestant churches, as well as religious observers to examine how Ukrainian churches are reacting to the Russian military invasion and assisting the population. We will also examine the religious narratives being formulated and how religious organizations abroad can help in this critical moment.

Speakers:

- Myroslav Marynovych, Vice-Rector of UCU, Co-Founder of Amnesty International Ukraine, and a Founding Member of the Ukrainian Helsinki Group, Lviv
- Rev. Petro Balog, OP, Director of St Thomas Aquinas Institute, Kyiv
- Sergii Bortnyk, Theology Academy of Kyiv, Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Kyiv
- Taras Dzyubansky, Director of the UCU Institute of Religion and Society and the Libertas Center for Interreligious Dialogue, Lviv
- Roman Soloviy, Director of Eastern European Institute of Theology, Lviv
- Most Rev. Pavlo Shvarts, Bishop of the German Evangelical Lutheran Churches of Ukraine, Kharkiv
- Rev. Ihor Shaban, Head of the Commission for Interconfessional and Interreligious Dialogue, Ukrainian Greek-Catholic Church, Lviv
- Dmytro Horyevoy, religious journalist, Lviv

Moderated by Rev. Roman Fihas and Pavlo Smytsnyk, Institute of Ecumenical Studies.
